A local focus on your community

Mayor's message

Welcome to your local update on services, events and projects in the Doubleview Ward.

With National Reconciliation Week 2026 just around the corner, the City of Stirling is reflecting on how we can all contribute to reconciliation in Australia. We recently renewed our commitment by launching our latest Reconciliation Action Plan 2026-2028. The new plan lays the groundwork for meaningful social and economic change at the local level.

Our robust planning process for the Annual Budget is well underway. While we continue to focus on maintaining first-rate services, financial sustainability is also front of mind as our community faces cost-of-living pressures.

Local news

Upgrades to CCTV infrastructure at Morris Place Shopping Centre are now complete.

The Western Australian Government, through Member for Scarborough Stuart Aubrey MLA, allocated $80,000 to CCTV infrastructure upgrades at Morris Place Shopping Centre as part of its 2025 State Election commitments. Works on the upgrade have now been completed, with the improved and additional cameras fully operational.

Stirling Open Art Studios is an annual event that sees professional artists within the City invite the community into their studios to explore their work, proudly supported by our Community Grants Program. Seven artists across three locations in Doubleview Ward were part of this year's event, including Settlers Art Studios at the historic Herdsman Lake Settlers Cottage in Churchlands. Home to local artists Gail Leidich, Ros Blackburn, Annie Rawle and Louise Collier, left, Settlers Art Studios are open by appointment year-round.

Our playground renewal program ensures City playgrounds are fun, safe, compliant with Australian standards and support our Public Open Space

Exercise Equipment Policy. Renewals have been completed at Penelope Stubberfield Reserve and Yuluma Park in Innaloo.

In Doubleview, lighting upgrades have been installed at the laneway south of Scarborough Beach Road between Flamborough Street and Hancock Street to enhance amenity and improve safety. Western Power will complete the energisation process, which can take up to 12 months.

Living Locally

The Living Locally Project encourages everyone to get involved in what it means to live locally through a series of City-hosted community events designed to build social connection, highlight unique local strengths and identify opportunities to improve local liveability. The Living Locally Project team will be hosting events in Doubleview from August to October.
